Youth Pre-Conference: Call for Sessions

Founded in 2013, ICFP Youth Pre-Conference provides the opportunity for young people to meaningfully engage in and lead conversations. The Youth Pre-conference is a space for youth to convene, network, and gain the resources necessary to continue their programmatic work, advocacy and research in their respective communities.

This year, the ICFP Youth Pre-Conference is up to the challenge and will bring young people from around the world with diverse backgrounds to advance the sexual and reproductive health, rights, and justice agenda forward. Concepts around human rights, inclusivity, justice, identity diversity and gender equity will be at the heart of this convening, and specific attention will be given to promoting creativity and innovation throughout so that all ideas are given lift.
